You may have seen our recent announcement that Metro Health – University of Michigan Health is adopting a new name. As part of one of the nation’s top-ranked health systems, we are proud to take the name of University of Michigan Health-West.

While our name has officially changed, the caring, patient-centered, innovative health expertise that we provide, will not. Here is what you can expect from us.

1. Some things never change: The same experts are going to take care of our patients. The same people will schedule appointments. The same warm, personalized approach will define how we treat our patients. This is how we have approached health care for nearly 80 years, and we are not going to change now.

2. Some things do change: For more than half of our history, we were known as Grand Rapids Osteopathic Hospital. We are proud of that history and the ideals that have carried us forward. Our name and even our location has changed several times. But throughout our history, we stayed true to the philosophy of our founding doctors: the patient comes first.

3. We made history again with our affiliation with University of Michigan Health: Nearly five years ago we joined one of the most respected, highly ranked health systems in the world. The benefits to our patients continue to add up, with new services, new choices and new access to nationally ranked excellence.

4. We’re still focused on West Michigan: This is our home. This is the community we serve, governed by a local board of directors, supporting community events, with neighborhood offices and local patient and family advisory councils.

5. We’re going through this together: We know a new name can be an adjustment, but you will not have to worry about our staff changing or new phone numbers. We’re going to make sure you can stay connected with us and refer patients the same way you always have.
